⚑ Conversions

This section displays conversions completed during the recording session, such as Goal completions and ecommerce transactions. Note: The information here approximates what would be displayed in Google Analytics. There may be reasons why your attribution shown in Google Analytics is different, such as alternative attribution modeling.

Flow

This section shows recording details for each page loaded and the hits sent from that page, if any. A single page may have multiple hits and multiple hit types. You can use this to troubleshoot issues by digging deeper into the data.
